

About British schools

All pupils must wear uniforms.

Teachers use letters from A (the best) to G to mark students.

Students finish school early (around 3 pm)

to practice after-school activities in clubs.

After School Clubs

In many British schools, there are houses just as in "Harry Potter". Students are not with the same classmates in every class so it's a good system to make friends.

! In the UK, "public schools" are actually private schools and are selective.

There is an assembly every morning.

Pupils listen to important news.

A Lollipop Lady is the nickname for the woman who help children cross safely the street to go to school.

Famous school or after school sports in the UK :

rowing

cricket

Assembly

We have assembly on Mondays and Thursdays at 8.30. All year 7 pupils meet in the hall. We listen to the headmaster. He gives us important information about the school.
